Virtual Workshop Description

Life is a journey, and no matter where you are in the journey, the decisions we make along the way not only impact us but those around us. So, what did you pack in your suitcase?

In this workshop we will discover that packing the right things can help us reach our destinations in life and in our careers. These essentials will help us achieve the highest level of awareness, fulfillment and impact. We will look at how the many decisions we make along the way either propel us forward or keep us stagnate.

Join us and get your packing checklist. Be sure to bring your suitcase.

Guest Speaker

Dione Bedell currently serves as the Director of Student Success and adjunct instructor at the University of the Incarnate Word for the School of Professional Studies in San Antonio, Texas.

For nearly 13 years, her passion and focus have been helping others achieve their personal, academic, and professional goals no matter where they begin. Her work experience is very broad and diverse in nature having worked in secondary and post-secondary education, social services, and administration. These experiences have bestowed upon her a wealth of knowledge that she loves sharing with others.

Born and raised in Jackson, Tenn., she went on to pursue a BBA in Business Information Systems from the University of the Incarnate Word, an MBA from Troy University, and a post-graduate certification in Information Systems Management from DeVry University. In addition to her educational pursuits, Dione is an ordained minister and very active in community outreach as the administrative pastor for the Vertical Church.

Dione is the wife of 17 years to Corey Bedell and the mother of a 6-year-old daughter, Khori Mikai Bedell.
